With the development of laparoscopic surgery, a new type of the treatment for hepatocellular carcinoma is being reported. And, transcatheter arterial embolization, chemotherapy and radiation therapy are also now available as other therapeutic options for hepatocellular carcinoma. But its prognosis is poor and the 5-year survival rate is less than 5%. Bats Mound Bats Mound is a prehistoric mound site in Aurora, Illinois. The mound is one of the earliest constructed in the Americas. The remains of the mound were discovered in 1885 and have been in the Chicago Museum of Science and Industry since 1921. Archaeological study of the mound site has contributed to a number of scientific advances in recent decades, including the discovery of the oldest reliably dated maize in the Americas at the site. Bats Mound was
